We recognise that not all families are able to attend our Focus Groups during the daytime, we apologise for this. Meeting Minutes

Suffolk County Council make documents and minutes from their SEND meetings available on the Governance and Oversight section of their website. You can view the documents along with information about the committees, boards and panels here

Family Feedback

Through our focus groups and feedback, we are hearing the continued difficulties families are facing with EHCP's and communication.

So many families are waiting far longer than legal timescales to receive your child or young persons final educational and care plans. Annual reviews are also facing similar delays. When plans are received, numerous families are reporting concerns over the schools named.

We have also heard how so many of you are not having your emails answered or phone calls returned. Many of you are waiting on the NDD pathway and are not receiving communications leaving you wondering if you have been forgotten about.

Lots of families say they never receive an apology for their experience of failings.

We have heard about schools not making reasonable adjustments, unreasonable punishments and using part-time time tables unlawfully.

We take your feedback to meetings and ensure this is heard by services.

You can feed back to us via Facebook Messenger here

Or by emailing info@suffolkpcf.co.uk

Primary School Emotional Wellbeing Intervention Provider

Suffolk County Council have chosen Hamish & Milo as their preferred Emotional Wellbeing Intervention provider for primary schools. This is part of Delivering Better Values.

The term "delivering better values" (DBV) doesn't explain the benefits schools are reporting that the interventions have on children.

Suffolk Parent Carer Forum have heard feedback from schools who have been able to identify many students with additional needs in English and Maths. All mainstream schools are invited to be involved.

You can find out more about Suffolk County Council's decision to use the Hamish & Milo here

ARFID Pathway Update

Those working on the pathway share the following:

“Following a period of focus on recruitment and service planning within NSFT, the Suffolk Specialist ARFID Team are readying to re-establish regular co-production and peer support groups. Thank you to all who have contributed and shared your views to date, this input has informed the topic plans for these groups. It is not too late to share your views, please contact Ask Suffolk ARFID by 04/11/2024 to share any topics you would be interested in discussing. For anyone who would like to be included on future mailing lists for updates on the Suffolk ARFID pathway, along with co-production and peer support information, again please email Ask Suffolk ARFID (asksuffolkarfid@nsft.nhs.uk) to request this.”

Suffolk Mainstream Inclusion Framework

This Framework (SMIF) outlines the ‘ordinarily available’ provision expected in Suffolk’s mainstream schools for all children and young people (CYP) including those with special educational needs and/or disabilities (SEND).

Provision and support should be provided in line with the needs of all children and young people (CYP) and is not dependent on any formal diagnosis.

You can read about it and refer to it here

Autism and Nature

Autism and Nature are a non-profit organisation who aim to improve life for children with autism by engaging them with nature.

believe that contact with the natural world can benefit a child's learning, health and wellbeing, and act to raise awareness of these benefits by developing educational resources in partnership with schools, local authorities, conservation organisations and autism charities.

Their books are designed to help parents, carers and teachers to engage children with autism and related disabilities with the countryside, natural world and rural heritage. Illustrations are accompanied by simple text supported by Widgit symbols.

Home Library Service

If you or someone you know can't make it to the library, Suffolk's Home Library Service can deliver titles to homes and care homes. If health or mobility problems are preventing you or someone you know from visiting a library branch or mobile library, our Home Library Service volunteers are here to help. The service is free and available from most libraries.

Their volunteers visit you in your home to discuss which books you are interested in, including audiobooks. You can tell them about your favourite authors, genres or non-fiction subjects, and they will choose a selection of books and order them from the library on your behalf. They then collect the books from the library and deliver them to your door and return any books you've finished.

Many titles in their catalogue are also available in Large Print and audiobook form for those who are visually impaired.

All our Home Library Service volunteers undergo an enhanced DBS check.

When a young person turns 16, they are entitled to receive benefits as an individual. The benefits they are entitled to may affect money their parent/carer receive.

It is important to get independent advice around what benefits can be claimed and how they could affect what payments a parent/carer already receives before deciding which is the best option for your family.

You can find out more information on Suffolk's Local Offer Website here

This was commissioned by Greater Manchester after their lead heard me present at a national meeting about Daniel, our loss and the horrific suicide statistics for autistic people. We launched on April 2nd, World Autism Acceptance Day, having over a 1000 people book to attend the live launch. This training is free and aimed to save lives.”

We're the charity for siblings of disabled children and adults

Young Siblings

Children and young people growing up with a disabled brother or sister, often find that life is harder for them than their peers.

Many young siblings experience daily challenges at home and at school and can feel like no-one understands what life is like for them.

Young siblings also bring many positives to their families, often providing friendship and care for their brothers and sisters.

How we can help

YoungSibs is our online support service for siblings aged 7-17.

- Get information about disabilities and conditions
- Read about how to manage feelings
- Get help with issues at home or at school

Parents and Professionals

Sibs can provide help for others to support young siblings.

- Training for professionals to run sibling support groups for children
- Sibs Talk Lite resources for primary and secondary schools
- Sibs Talk intervention training for primary schools
- Information and training for parents and professionals on supporting young siblings

Adult Siblings

Adult siblings of someone with a lifelong disability provide support for their brothers and sisters at the same time as juggling their own life and commitments.

They rarely receive recognition for their role or support for their needs, and can experience negative effects on their work, mental health, relationships and finances.

Many siblings just want to enjoy social time with their brother or sister, rather than time being spent on care tasks.

How we can help

For adult siblings aged 18 and over (including bereaved siblings).

- Information and advice
- Peer support groups
- eBook Self-care for siblings
- Guides on care topics
- Workshops and events

“My sister Frances is an exceptional person, the kind of individual you never forget once you've met them. She is loving and loud and a real live wire. She also has learning disabilities which means that life sometimes, gets complicated. This means that I have an understanding of what it means to be a sibling – the fun and the not so fun bits!”

Plan Bee Course

family

Understanding and supporting your neurodivergent child or young person's needs

Plan Bee is a 3 week course (2 hours per week) written by two Clinical Psychologists working in Norfolk Community Health and Care. We have been commissioned by Suffolk ICB to deliver this course for parents and carers of children who have suspected or diagnosed neurodevelopmental conditions.

All behaviour is a form of communication. Our course supports parents to understand their child's individual needs and how to best support them.

Free course for Parents/Carers

The aim of this course is to help parents and carers to:

- Understand why their child or young person might become overwhelmed.
- Reflect on what might trigger certain distressed behaviours and how to implement pro-active and re-active strategies.

Needs Assessment VS Carer's Assessment

A process used by social services to decide if your child and your family require extra help to meet your needs based on local eligibility criteria

Eligible children should get a plan from the local authority that sets out who is going to do what, where and when to help your child

Possible services include home help, short breaks, recreational equipment, leisure and education facilities, travel, adaptations, and more

Services for disabled children are available under the Chronically Sick and Disabled Persons Act 1970 and under the Children Act 1989

A chance to tell social services about your own needs as a parent – the things that could make it easier for you to look after your child

It must consider your physical, emotional and mental health, social and economic wellbeing, employment, relationships, housing and more

Eligible carers should get a care plan setting out services (arranged by the council or via direct payments), planned outcomes and review dates

Parent carers in the UK have strengthened rights to ask for an assessment of their needs at any time under the Children and Families Act 2014

Parent Carer Needs Assessments

Did you know that Suffolk County Council offer Parent Carer Needs Assessments?

The purpose of a Parent Carer Needs assessment (PCNA) is for you to have an assessment of your own needs, allowing you to discuss with a practitioner your caring role and how it affects your wellbeing, your feelings and choices about caring, what help you need to support you as a carer of a child/young person with additional needs and/or disabilities, and to find out what help and support may be available.

To request a Parent Carer Needs Assessment contact Customer First on
